

Helmet Sizing Guide

If your looking for a new helmet, follow these steps to make sure you get the correct size.

1. MEASURE YOUR HEAD

It all starts by measuring your head:

- Wrap a soft tape measure around your head, just above the eyebrows, keeping the tape level from front to back
 - If you don't have a soft tape measure, use a piece of string and then lay the string out on a table. Use a ruler to measure the total length
 - If the helmet is a gift, and you don't want to (or can't) measure the head, then measure the inside of his/her current helmet or a baseball hat they wear frequently

2. CONVERT TO CENTIMETERS

Individual helmet sizing tables are in centimeters. Use the table below to convert from either inches or hat size.

| Centimeters (CM) | Inches | Hat Size |
|-------------------------|---------------|-----------------|
| 48 | 18 7/8 | 6 |
| 49 | 19 3/8 | 6 1/8 |
| 50 | 19 5/8 | 6 1/4 |
| 51 | 20 | 6 3/8 |
| 52 | 20 1/2 | 6 1/2 |
| 53 | 20 7/8 | 6 5/8 |
| 54 | 21 1/4 | 6 3/4 |
| 55 | 21 5/8 | 6 7/8 |
| 56 | 22 | 7 |
| 57 | 22 3/8 | 7 1/8 |
| 58 | 22 3/4 | 7 1/4 |
| 59 | 23 1/4 | 7 3/8 |
| 60 | 23 5/8 | 7 1/2 |
| 61 | 24 | 7 5/8 |
| 62 | 24 3/8 | 7 3/4 |
| 63 | 24 3/4 | 7 7/8 |
| 64 | 25 1/4 | 8 1/8 |

3. CHECK THE HELMET'S SIZE CHART

Sizing is unique for each helmet model, even different models from the same manufacturer. It's important to confirm correct sizing for the exact helmet you're going to buy.

On each helmet's product page, there is a sizing table at the bottom. Using head size from above, figure out the correct helmet size for you and then add the helmet to your shopping cart.
